

Mobility, services included

November 15 and 16, 2011 - Belfort - France

The rise in fuel prices, the traffic jam in major cities, the aging of populations, and in larger context the evolution of mentalities, lead to a complete overhaul of our relationship to automobiles.

Thus, the notion of services takes center stage: riding on the wave of the new technologies, this notion opens up a boundless field of explorable potentialities in front of mobility's new challenges.
